Beyond the Bay is a teacher workshop designed to expose teachers to some of Louisiana’s coastal habitats through exploration of a barrier island and the organisms that rely on them. By participating, teachers will be immersed in some of the rich and diverse coastal environments of south Louisiana.

The workshop will require teachers to travel to, visit, and explore the DeFelice Marine Center located in Cocodrie, LA. Through this experience teachers will benefit from having access to the labs, classrooms, vessels, and other resources available at the marine center.

The workshop will include a small boat trip out to the barrier island named Trinity Island located south of Terrebonne Parish. The focus of the trip will be on the different habitat types of the island and how birds and other organisms use them. The participants will be introduced to barrier island formation, island flora and fauna, beach profiling, marine debris, and beach seining.

Participants of this workshop will receive:

- hands-on activities and lesson plans
- a small boat trip to Trinity Island
- content information
- classroom resources
- meals and lodging
- and up to 12 CLUs

No experience needed... only a willing mind!
